

Homely Planet Inter(net) Cultural Radio is a service to highlight the positive aspects of multiculturalism on Northern Ireland through music and cultural education.

Homely Planet's vision is to show how people representing different cultures & religions contribute in a more positive way to the economic and social status of the country when we respect & have a better understanding of each others' diversity.

TRANSMISSION YOUTH
ycni
investing in youth work

A guerrilla recording program providing total creativity to young people.

We give them the recording equipment and leave them to it.

Street interviews, rap, song, debate poetry, drama; it is up to the young people to decide what to record and produce.

An introductory session will include a quick lesson how to use the equipment and the aim of the program which must fit into the theme of cultural education.

After an agreed timescale we will collect the recordings and edit them to produce a show.

The 'transmission youth' program has been supported by the Youth Council for Northern Ireland and the equipment is lent to a group at no cost.

A small fee for the introductory workshop is the only cost.

For additional elements to the program (ie: young people involved in the editing process), please contact us. info@homelyplanet.org
